

The present invention relates to a combination of a cationic agrochemically active compound with an anionic polymer having negatively charged functional groups, with formation of electrostatic interactions for the controlled release of this active compound. This combination permits the suppression of antagonistic interactions of various active compounds with one another, and also better crop selectivity.

THE NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY ASTOR LENOX TILDEN FOUNDATION